

Section A: Scenario Reasoning

1. Do not share your address, and tell a trusted adult about the message straight away
2. Because copies or screenshots can be saved and shared by others, even after the original is deleted
3. Because it can be hard to verify someone's real identity online, making it easier for people to pretend to be someone they're not
4. Healthy screen time doesn't interfere with sleep, schoolwork, or other activities; a problem arises when it starts to replace these things
5. Stop the chat, don't respond, and tell a trusted adult what happened

Section B: Digital Responsibility

1. Because words can still cause real hurt even without seeing someone's reaction, so kindness matters just as much
2. Because tone and intent can be easily misread in text, so what feels like a joke to one person may feel hurtful to another
3. Because false information can spread quickly and mislead people, so checking sources helps avoid spreading it further
4. To help protect children from inappropriate content and encourage a healthy balance with other activities
5. Encourage them to tell a trusted adult, and be a supportive friend by not ignoring what they've shared
