Determiners

These questions practise determiners - the words before a noun that tell you which one, how many or whose. Part of the Year 5 grammar curriculum.

Name: _____ Date: _____

Section A: Kinds of Determiner

1. Write the kind of determiner (article, demonstrative, possessive or quantifier): the, those, our, several

2. Circle all three determiners: Some children brought their snacks on the trip.

3. Is "This" a determiner or a pronoun here? This is my favourite song.

4. Is "That" a determiner or a pronoun here? That film was scary.

5. Write a or an: ___ honest answer, ___ useful tip, ___ unusual hat

Section B: Changing the Meaning

1. Change the sentence so it is about more than one: This apple is sour.

2. Rewrite using a number instead of "some": I saw some ducks at the pond.

3. Which determiner means nobody had a pen? ___ pupil had a pen. (No, Each, Every)

4. Replace both uses of "the" with possessive determiners: The dog chased the ball.

5. Which is correct? (a) There isn't much milk. (b) There aren't much biscuits.